

About

BlockFi Litecoin Trust is an investment vehicle that gives institutional and accredited investors access to litecoin in a turnkey format, with transparency, minimal credit risk and cost efficiency. The investment objective of the Trust is to reflect the value of litecoin held by the Trust, as determined by reference to the Index¹, less the Trust's expenses and other liabilities.²

Background on Litecoin

Litecoin is an alternative cryptocurrency, or altcoin, created in October 2011. Similar to Bitcoin, it is based on a decentralized, open-source global payment network.

Why a Trust Product

BlockFi believes that investors will be able to more effectively implement strategic and tactical asset allocation strategies that use litecoin by using the shares instead of directly purchasing and holding litecoin. For many investors, transaction costs related to the shares will be lower than those associated with the direct purchase, storage and safekeeping of litecoin.

Safekeeping System

The Trust's appointed custodian is Coinbase Custody Trust Company, LLC ("Coinbase Custody"). Coinbase Custody stores all of the Trust's digital assets in totally offline, cold storage. Security includes, in addition to secure vaults, physical, cyber, and operational controls with multilevel safeguards. The Trust's assets will not be lent out or used as collateral for borrowing or derivatives.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The graph above shows the historical price performance of litecoin and not of the Trust. The graph does not show the effect of the Sponsor's Fee or any other fees or expenses the Trust may incur. The Trust was launched on April 9, 2021, therefore there is no actual historical data for the Trust prior to that date.

*The Sponsor is seeking the creation of a secondary market for the Trust's shares, but there can be no assurances that such a market will develop. Shares purchased from the Trust are restricted securities subject to significant transfer restrictions. Among other things, transfers of such shares require the Sponsor's approval and are subject to a minimum one-year holding period (or, once the Trust's shares have been registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 for at least 90 days, a minimum six-month holding period). The Sponsor is currently seeking to so register the Trust's shares, but there can be no assurances that such registration will be achieved.

Investors should carefully read the Trust's private placement memorandum before making an investment.

² Because the trust does not currently operate a redemption program, there can be no assurance that the value of the trust's shares will reflect the value of the Litecoin held by the trust, minus the trust's fees and expenses, and the shares of the trust, if traded on any secondary market, may trade at a substantial premium over, or a substantial discount to, the value of the Litecoin held by the trust, minus the trust's fees and expenses. There is currently no secondary market for shares of the trust and there can be no assurances that one will develop. The trust may also be unable to meet its investment objective.

³ The shares of the trust are offered in private placements pursuant to the exemption from registration provided by Rule 506(c) under Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act") and is only available to "accredited investors," as such term is defined under Regulation D of the Securities Act. As a result, the shares of the trust are restricted and subject to significant limitations on transfers and resales.

Investors should carefully consider the investment objectives and risks as well as fees and expenses of the trust before investing. More information, including calculation methodologies for "Litecoin Holdings" and "Litecoin Holdings per Share," can be found in the trust's private placement memorandum (which can be accessed here). Investors should read the trust's private placement memorandum carefully before making an investment. Investments in the trust are speculative investments that involve high degrees of risk, including a partial or total loss of invested funds. An investment in the trust is not suitable for any investor that cannot afford loss of the entire investment. The shares of the trust are intended to reflect the price of the Litecoin held by the trust (based on Litecoin per share), minus the trust's fees and expenses. The shares of the trust are not registered under the Securities Act, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or any state or other securities laws. Investors should consider an investment in the trust's shares to be an illiquid investment and should invest only if prepared to hold the shares indefinitely.
